Chief Apostle Joshua A. Sykes, formerly pastor of the church of the Living God, Berkeley, bore the brunt of the attack made by government witnesses in the closing of the presentation of the case on trial before Federal Judge M. P. Dooley in San Francisco today. With Sykes are A. M. Dean, Phil Nelson, Walter Crosby and John Ferguson, apostles, jointly indicted for violation of the espionage act.

Walter Hirt, 308 Shattuck avenue, Berkeley, concluded his testimony with a statement that Apostle Sykes had urged members of the congregation not to buy Liberty Bonds and had refused to baptize boys who had enlisted for service in the war with Germany. When asked if he knew anything of the cases of John Kruse and Harry Slott, charged with aiding the draft, and arrested, Hirt quoted Sykes as saying: "Believe me, Theodore A. Bell says this is a hard case to fight because you are fooling with the government and you are going to lose so many of our own boys."

The outstanding business of the morning session was the testimony of Mrs. Halloway, testified that Sykes preached from the pulpit of the tabernacle that Germany would win the war because he saw Prince Michael on a white horse with the Kaiser's helmet and sword, and that he knew from this vision the final success of Germany was certain. Referring to the attitude of Sykes toward the United States had entered the war and his urging to male members of the congregation to evade the draft, Halloway quoted Sykes as saying:

"Stand up and be shot first. I won't go to war and I won't let my boys go."

The government concluded its case with the testimony of Charles Weatherill, 1015 87th street, Elmhurst, who was asked by special War Attorney Caspar Orban, Attorney General Pershing for early return home were announced today by the War Department as follows:

INVESTIGATION OF SECURITY LEAGUE STARTS

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
LEASER WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Congressional investigation of the political activities of the National Security League was started today when a call for an executive meeting of the special committee of seven members of the House, appointed under the Frear resolution providing for such an investigation, was issued by Representative Johnson of Kentucky, its chairman.

Johnson stated that it was his purpose to have the committee "get down to business" as soon as possible. He added that he thought that by next week it would begin serving subpoenas to the first witnesses who will be called before it. Among them will be Ellhu Root, honorary president, and Alton B. Parker, honorary vice-president of the league.

The committee is empowered to administer oaths to witnesses called to testify before it and to sit anywhere in any part of the country to conduct its probe.

Besides Johnson, the committee consists of Representative Harrison of Mississippi, elected United States Senator at the November election; Edward W. Saunders of Virginia, Rhaddeus H. Caraway of Arkansas, Edward B. Brown of Wisconsin, Joseph Walsh of Massachusetts, Charles E. Reavis of Nebraska, Johnson, Harrison, Caraway and Saunders are Democrats; Brown, Reavis and Walsh are Republicans.

Representatives James R. Frear of Wisconsin and Roscoe C. McCulloch of Ohio, both Republicans, who were re-elected at the November election despite the league's opposition to them, declare they are prepared to present the committee with a mass of information regarding the league's alleged attacks on members of Congress which will show that it was provided with a fund of $120,000 by certain interests who are entirely both Senators and Representatives incurred by refusing to support congressional legislation favorable to the league.

Sensational developments are promised by a number of members of the House, who, in addition to Frear and McCulloch, are prepared, they state, to testify under oath before the committee that the league waged a campaign of misrepresentation against them. Chairman Johnson stated that it was proposed by

IS PLAN OF BRITAIN.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASER WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—Expounding the British view of the freedom of the seas, the legal correspondent of the Times describes the main British proposals as follows:

"A readiness to continue as heretofore the freedom of the seas in times of peace, which has been carried out by England ever since the admission of foreign vessels to our ports, more trade more than by any other important commercial country and agreed to the conversion into a free sea of any sea now treated as a closed sea."

"A strong conviction, greatly strengthened and hardened by the lessons of this war, that to maintain the minimum of safety for our people and empire and to be no party to any agreement conflicting or tampering with the conditions of warfare are so changing that we must be careful to protect ourselves against perils ahead."

"The readiness to consider any changes put forward by neutral countries consistent with these essentials."

"A desire to cooperate in rendering in Germany the hideous crimes committed at sea."

"A readiness as far as is compatible with safety in the full sense to promote any practicable scheme for a league of nations."

"In short—a firm resolution as to essentials and an open mind as to secondary matters."

THE SECOND ESSENTIAL TO BE MAINTAINED WOULD BE PERMANENT.

Tonight! Take Dodson's Liver Tone! Better Than Calomel For Liver

Calomel sickens! If bilious, constipated and head-achy read my guarantee.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work! Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile, crumbles into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, or breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents. Take a spoonful tonight, and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning, I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not siltate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work again and your bowels at that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless, good, and they like its pleasant taste.—Advertisement—

SPANISH INFLUENZA---THE WAY TO TREAT IT AND TO AVOID IT

Simply the Old-Fashioned Grip Masquerading Under a New Name.

Spanish Influenza, which appeared in Spain in May, has all the appearance of grip or la grippe, which has swept over the world in numerous epidemics as far back as history runs. Hippocrates refers to an epidemic in 412 B. C. which is regarded by many to have been influenza. Every century has had its attacks. Beginning with 1831, this country has had five epidemics, the last in 1889-90.

There is no occasion for panic—Influenza or grip has a very low percentage of fatalities—not over one death out of every four hundred cases, according to the N. C. Board of Health. The chief danger lies in complications arising, attacking principally patients in a run down condition—those who don't go to bed soon enough, or those who get up too early.

THE TREATMENT. Go to bed at the first symptoms, not only for your own sake but to avoid spreading the disease to others—take a purgative, eat plenty of nourishing food remain perfectly quiet and don't worry. Nature herself is the only "cure" for influenza and will throw off the attack if only you conserve your strength. A little Quinine, Aspirin or Dover's Powder may be given by the physician's direction to allay the fever. Always call a physician, since the chief danger of grip is in its weakening effect on the system, which allows complications to develop. These are chiefly pneumonia and bronchitis, sometimes inflammation of the middle ear, or heart affections. For these reasons, it is very important that the patient remain in bed until his strength returns; stay in bed at least two days, or if you are over 50 or not strong, stay in bed four days or more, according to the severity of the attack.

HOW TO AVOID THE DISEASE. Evidence seems to prove that this is a germ disease, spread principally by human contact, chiefly through coughing, sneezing or spitting. So avoid persons having colds—this means avoiding crowds—common drinking cups, roller towels, etc. Keep up your bodily strength by means of exercise in the open air, and good food.

KEEP FREE FROM COLDS. Above all, avoid colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and under them much better breeding places for the germs. Use Vick's VapoRub at the very first sign of a cold. For a head cold, melt a little VapoRub in a spoon and inhale the vapors; better still, use VapoRub in a benzoin steam kettle. If this is not available, use an ordinary tea-kettle. Fill with an full of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of VapoRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

NOTE: Vick's VapoRub is the discovery of North Carolina druggist, who found how to combine, in salve form, Menthol and Camphor with such valuable oils as Eucalyptus, Thyme, Cubeb, etc., so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated as vapors. VapoRub is applied to all druggists. While common sizes at all druggists, a large size, North, it is the standard home remedy in the South and West for all forms of colds. It is recommended for children's colds or colds, just as it is externally applied and can, therefore, be used freely and often—without the slightest harmful effect.—Advertisement—

NAVY AIRSHIP PROBLEMS ARE WELL SOLVED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Success of the navy in solving its war-time aircraft problems is attributed to the policy consistently followed of making this work conform to regular naval practice. Rear Admiral David W. Taylor, chief constructor, in his annual report made public today, says that "production has been handled like other departmental technical questions, and despite the great expansion of forces necessary, 'direction' control of aircraft questions have been cared for by officers familiar with the methods of the navy department."

Civilian, Admiral Taylor continues, "have thus been able to carry on their naval work under the most favorable conditions. This policy has demonstrated its soundness. The types of aircraft developed for production have proved successful, changes have been a minimum and have been adopted only with a view to improvement."

BEYOND ALL NEEDS.

As the report was prepared prior to the cessation of hostilities, it does not go into detail on any part of the building of the navy. As to aircraft, however, it shows that both types of seaplanes used by the navy are "fundamentally American," improved in design of British experience. In October production of the two main types was in excess of requirements. Development of balloons for naval purposes also comes under Admiral Taylor's bureau. His report shows that much experimental work was done with types of parachutes, an officer of the construction corps having dropped from an airship in flight and from a kite balloon to test the design adopted. The same officer also has been in charge of the type of parachute "carrying the basket of the kite balloon and its occupants."

ASSEMBLING CENTER.

The original plans for the naval aircraft factory at the Philadelphia yard called for 1000 small machines annually, the report says. In January, 1918, however, the navy's requirements were suddenly expanded and the plant was converted into an assembling center with four times that capacity. The original program maximum was reached last March and the expansion work has now also been completed.

Admiral Taylor gives no details as to the ship construction, but the destroyer program his most significant statement is that the government owned plant at Squantum, Mass., is to be continued as a permanent adjunct of the navy.

MRS. EDLIN FAINTS AS LIFE IS BARED

After the curtain had been raised on her past in Judge Bernard Flood's court across the bay, Mrs. Margaret Edlin, 39, of 1000 Broadway, fainted as she came as the climax to her three days of testimony in the suit of her husband, Edward Edlin, against Alucio LaRocca, the Crab King, for $100,000 damages on a charge of alienation of her affections. The case is expected to reach the jury late today.

Some of those who helped raise the curtain on Mrs. Edlin's past were two policemen who testified that in July, 1905, Mr. and Mrs. Edlin were accused of extracting $50 from an actor named Edlin through means of the "bodge" game, worked in the Sierra rooming house.

Another assistant at the curtain raising was Arthur Creighton, a South Pacific employee, who said that eight months before the Edlins separated, in April, 1916, he had made the rounds of night clubs and resorts with Mrs. Edlin. But it was Katherine Grady, witness, who added the touch. She said that she and Mrs. Edlin started rooming at the Ford Apartments after the Edlin separation, but Mrs. Edlin left because of the too ardent attentions of two prominent men with whom Mrs. Edlin "carried on" and who sent her love letters.

Propaganda Probe to Continue More Letters Put in Records Hearst Orders to Editors Read

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Further inquiry into German propaganda in this country will be made on Friday, when the Senate committee will meet in adjourned session.

Among the messages received and sent by Hearst and others read into the record today was one from the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin, sent via Sayville, N. Y., February 22, nineteen days after the United States severed diplomatic relations. It was addressed to "William R. Hearst, The Breakers, Palm Beach, Fla." and said:

"Since rupture relations Reuters misrepresentations more than ever uncontrollable. Kindly cable brief statement precise situation, opinions leading American circles. Many thanks beforehand."

BRITISH SECRET SERVICE.

On February 24 Hearst sent this message to Carvalho of the New York American:

"Don't you think we should print in New York the dispatch from Vossische Zeitung?"

On the following day, February 25, Hearst sent this message to Carvalho:

"Use 'Star-Spangled Banner' in all morning papers. Do not print Vossische Zeitung message."

The message regarding the Zimmermann note, signed by Hearst, by which Hearst was supposed to have been meant, read as follows:

"Agree with Francis. Zimmermann note all probability absolute fake and forgery. Proceed by very unscrupulous attorney-general's very unscrupulous department. Everybody knows that the secret police are the most conscienceless manufacturers of forged evidence in the world."

"Gregory's whole career in office, as Francis showed in recent editorial, has been a plot concocted. He has not been bound by morals, facts or the Constitution. He has employed the secret service to enforce England's unlawful orders. He has attempted to put a bill through Congress to make any criticism of his acts or of the President's acts or of any political move or measure treasonable and punishable as such."

"He is possibly violently pro-British. He is surely violently pro-corruption. He is located where he can do the corporation the most good, and he has been unwilling to be removed, or they have been unwilling to have him removed, even for a position on the supreme bench."

"It is possible that the British secret service cooperated in these plans. The only serious consequence is that the whole people of this country, 90 per cent of whom

"do not want war, may be projected into war because of these misrepresentations and these forged documents, if they are forged."

"I do not want to say all this editorially, and get some one to stand for interview, as Hale used to do, to bring all these points out, and those who about the probable forgery of the note. We should develop the forgery phase of the note for the Sunday paper if Francis and I seem to be right."

GEORGE SYLVESTER VIERECK, editor of Viereck's Weekly, formerly the Fatherland, who has been mentioned under times in the inquiry, sent Hearst a message from New York under date of March 1, saying he believed the story of the Zimmermann note was a "hoax" and that the document was "planted by British agents."

Under date of March 3 Hearst sent these messages to Carvalho: "I feel Congress should remain in continuing session and protect people's liberties. This making a dictator of the President is a desperately dangerous precedent. It is an immediate harm with a good President, but it may do immense injury with some bad one."

Trio of Oakland Boys Are Arrested

Philip Annunzio, fifteen years of age, 532 Market street; Bob Ramirez, fifteen years old, 222 Brush street, and Frank Dodge, fifteen years old, 516 Alca street, were arrested by the Alameda police yesterday on petit larceny charges. The boys are accused of stealing bicycles. They were arrested at the Howard bicycle shop on Central avenue and later were turned over to the Oakland police.

Accused of Driving While Intoxicated

James Harrison was arrested last night on a charge of driving an auto while intoxicated. Harrison bumped into an auto driven by Upton Maher at Eighth and Grove streets. Maher and Policeman T. Merrick took Harrison to the police station.

Hotel Harrison Is Threatened by Fire

Firemen under Chief Whitehead had a hard fight on their hands to put out a fire which swept up through the walls of the Harrison hotel, Fourteenth and Harrison streets, late yesterday. The fire started in the linen chute, possibly from a lighted match dropped among the clothes. Dense smoke poured up through the building, alarming the guests. The fire spread up between the walls to the third floor, causing a damage estimated at $1000.

GREAT RELIEF CENTERS. Relief centers for rearing starving Armenians have been established at Constantinople, Tiflis, Beirut, Tbriz, Bagdad, Cairo, Teheran and Jerusalem.

Vast Work Done by U. S. Navy Is Shown

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Four hundred per cent increase in expenditures for the fiscal year just past, as compared to the fiscal year 1916, are cited by Rear Admiral Taylor, chief naval constructor, in his annual report today as a concrete illustration of his bureau's war work. About $157,500,000 was expended. Taylor presented estimates of $158,955,000 for "increase of navy" for the fiscal year 1920 under his department. This covers continuance of work on vessels already authorized by Congress. His report showed vast work done on destroyers, naval aircraft and other naval craft during the last year.

STATE URGED TO RALLY TO RED CROSS

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 11.—An appeal to every person in California to become a member of the American Red Cross during the Christmas "Roll Call" campaign, which will end December 23, was made public today in a proclamation issued by Governor William D. Stephens. He said that the end of the year with its many phases of relief work, had made the "need for a large and active membership in the society greater than ever." The proclamation follows:

"The end of the war has brought with it no cessation of the labors of the Red Cross. The evacuation of occupied territory by the enemy has greatly increased the work of rehabilitation of the devastated countries, the succor of the homeless and of the starving. The need for a large and active membership in the society is greater than ever."

"Last year, under the inspiration of actual war, the people of this state joined the Red Cross in great numbers. This year the opportunity presented to us of world-wide charity should be equally inspiring."

"During the period between December 9 and 23 the Red Cross is carrying on a drive for membership known as the Christmas roll call. We earnestly appeal to all of us an opportunity to become members of that great organization and to take part in the noble work it is doing. We would all be intensely proud if we could say to the world that every citizen of California was a member of the Red Cross, and I hope that the people of this state will make the reality of that ideal their goal during the period of the drive. We can do no greater thing at this time."

LABOR NOTES

W. A. Spooner, secretary of the Central Labor Council, has been elected to represent the organization as delegate to the Labor Congress to convene in Chicago on January 14 in the interest of a new trial for Tom Mooney, convicted of murder for the Preparedness Day bomb strictly. Spooner was chosen by a large majority. He will act in concert with the delegates to be elected by the union affiliates with the organization.

An appeal for a new wage and working agreement for telephone operators and electricians has been made direct to Postmaster General Burdett, director general of telephone, telegraph and cable lines. The request emanated from Oakland Electrical Union, No. 233, with which the crafts mentioned are affiliated. The appeal is, however, predicated on the fact that employees and the local telephone company to reach an agreement by December 20 on the claims presented to the company's management. E. S. Hurley, representative of the union, states that negotiations with D. P. Fullerton, general superintendent of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, for a new agreement have been made. These negotiations were dropped, according to Hurley, when Fullerton told the union that he was unwilling to grant their demands up to a 25 per cent increase.

The officials of the Oakland Boilermakers' Union have received no notification of the reported action of the Iron Trades Council of the San Francisco bay district, expelling the organization from membership. They state the local boilermakers are not connected with any action the Iron Trades Council may or may not take in the premises, as by vote on last Wednesday the local union severed its connection with the council. "We purpose joining the Metal Trades Council at present, being organized in the Eastbay country," said V. C. Deedlaugh, assistant secretary of the Boilermakers' Union, and so far as the Iron Trades Council is concerned it can go as far as it likes in the matter of expelling us. There are 30,000 members of organized labor in the Eastbay country at present affiliated with the Iron Trades Council, and the bay, and I venture the assertion that every one of them will affiliate with the Metal Trades Council at this point. The membership on the continental side of the San Francisco bay represents a substantial majority of the membership of the Iron Trades Council as at present constituted, and where the majority there the governing power should also lie. Again, we propose to be a real bona fide Metal Trades Council in the Eastbay country, not a political organization."

Farmers of State Elated by Rain

Farmers are highly elated over the late rains and state that the heavy precipitation means millions of dollars to California. Plowing will be halted, farmers say, until the ground dries out sufficiently to permit tilling, which will then be resumed on a larger scale than ever. One local farmer plans to plant sixty acres in peas as soon as the ground is dry enough, and others will sow grain and other crops. All indications at present point to bumper crops next year, according to men who are in touch with the agricultural conditions of the state.

'CHEER 'EM UP' COMMITTEE IN 'GRAVE' TASKS

It may have been a bit of grim humor on the part of John Smith, president of the Oakland Rotary Club, or maybe there were other reasons for his appointment of the following "Jollity Committee" to visit sick members of the Rotary Club and cheer them up: Charles H. J. Truman, a prominent local undertaker; Frank Mayhew, casket manufacturer; Laurence Moore, manager of the Oakland Crematory.

ALPS SCALING BY MAILMAN BANNED

BERKELEY, Dec. 11.—Residents of Claremont's exclusive hillside have been warned by the Berkeley post office that they expect too much of the postman. They will get just half as much as they expect unless they help lessen the goat-like activity of the postman who is compelled to leap nimbly from crag to crag and trot swiftly up and down long flights of hillside stairs in order to make his two deliveries a day.

DANDRUFF MAKES HAIR FALL OUT

A Small Bottle of 'Danderine' Keeps Hair Thick, Strong, Beautiful

Girls! Try This! Doubles Beauty of Your Hair in a Few Moments

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance. Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine for a few cents at any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and as healthy as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Advertisement.

JIMMY CAVANEY'S BEST LETTER IN SHIPBUILDERS' LEAGUE

Clyde Wares Swipes Most Bases and Billy Hollander Is The Leading Run-Getter Complete Batting Averages for Season Show Kenworthy and Howard Can Still Hit.

It is no wonder that Doc Strub of the San Francisco Seals is anxious to secure Jimmy Cavaney, the San Francisco sand lot product. The batting averages compiled for the entire season of the Shipbuilders' League shows the promising youngster as the best hitter among the regulars. He has participated in twenty games and hit for an average of .321. There are others ahead of the youngster, but those players have hardly played in half the games.

Bill Kenworthy of the Hanlon team has played in every game of the season and has hit for an average of .297. Del Howard shows that he can still paste the pill around by hitting for .268. That is a good average, considering that few of the other stars are above him. "Swede" Risberg batted .308 for seventeen games.

Clyde Wares is leader among the base stealers, having got away with ten swipes, and Billy Lane is his closest rival with seven. The leading run-maker is Billy Hollander with nineteen. Westertil is next with fifteen. The complete batting averages follow:

Plestina Too Strong For Jack Taylor

Chicago Grappler Pins Northern Wrestler Twice at the Dreamland Show

Marin Plestina still "owns" San Francisco. The massive grappler from Chicago pinned Jack Taylor in straight falls at Dreamland rink last night, and the novice or that part of it interested in the grappler game, has hailed him as king of the big fellows. Following his victory last night a match between Dan Santel, the guy who killed the game across the bay, and Mr. Plestina loomed on the horizon. Santel long claimed that San Francisco was his own particular town and he was anxious to establish it to it.

Mr. Taylor's shoulders first kissed the mat in 23 minutes and 27 seconds when Plestina used a reverse headlock that held the non-western man helpless. Strangler Lewis was the referee. At the end of the match, Plestina explained that he had no patent on it, but that he was a wrestler and he was using it. Taylor thought Plestina should have invited the other fellow's stuff, but the referee decided everything was hunky.

Taylor opened the second session by posing some acrobatics with his little friends after having been pinned a few minutes and standing him on suddenly reminding the money, Taylor and not an acrobat, so he commenced crocheting. He was then engaged by a body slapper who was secured by Taylor looked bad for Plestina, but the hold and reverse pressure worked and the affair was over.

Taylor is willing to go on record as declaring Plestina is the strongest man in the world. Jack still thinks he can pin Dan Santel, but he is off Plestina's big hand, but introduced and announced that he would meet Plestina upstairs gave him the well known "rasberry."

Marin Plestina took a fall from Ber-nardi and received the decision from Referee Freedman.

STRIKES ...And... SPARES

Seven matches were called in the Leslie Smarr individual tournament at the Oakland alley last night, but only two went the route of five games. Dockham and Hanna had a great battle. With two aces, they went neck and neck up to the tenth frame of the deciding game, when Dockham blew an easy spare which lost him the series. The other five-game match was between Waters and Koshi. After a poor start in the first two games Koshi came back strong and won the next three games. It took four games for Strode to get the decision over Cranch. Hei-pel went the same distance to win from Lydell. Parker took three straight from Kelson, scoring the high single game of 167. He was 210. Stanton scored 167, defeating the two-time Pacific coast champion, Kelson, in a straight game. Parker's Quaker vs. Plankman and Hughes vs. Buck will complete the first week's schedule.

McCarthy Has Shade, But Splits 50-50

SEATTLE, Dec. 11.—While fans today who saw Johnny McCarthy of San Francisco battle Harry Anderson last night believe the southerner had the best of the argument, the bout was called a draw after four rounds of fighting.

McCarthy showed he is one of the hardest hitters in the game but he was unable to land the sleep producer on the sly.

Harry Gillum of Salt Lake made K. O. Elmer Brown of California quit in the third round. They are middleweights.

Delaney Javelin Adopted by A. A. U.

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—The Delaney javelin, designed by Martin J. Delaney, athletic director of the Chicago Athletic Association, will be the official javelin used in all championship meets of the National Athletic Union.

The javelin is reinforced at the neck with three steel bands and its once formerly used. The old javelin, it was contended, was too easily broken because of its fragility.

PAT MORAN'S RELEASE IS GREAT SURPRISE

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—President John Heydler of the National League today sent a telegram to the American League headquarters at Chicago, asking for a conference with the organization to discuss the question of whether the National Commission should be maintained or whether a one-man commission should be established.

The release of Pat Moran as manager of the Phillies fell like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky. The four years as manager of the Phillies, Moran has proved himself a capable manager and it is surprising that he will have no trouble finding a berth. He is mentioned to succeed Christy Mathewson at the Phillies. Differences between Moran and the stockholders began in 1914, when Alexander and his partner were sold without consulting him.

The Phillies are now holding the sack. Jack Coombs was offered Moran's berth, but declined with President Baker.

Jack Daubert has been in consultation with President Baker and Manager Robinson of the Phillies.

Bob Shand's Column.

Sam Langford, the bone crushing gentleman who swamps wallpops with Fredrick Fulton at the local Auditorium next Wednesday night, is one of the few well known fighters who did not collect any of the fat purses offered by San Francisco promoters when the 20 round game was flourishing. Every other fighter of prominence stepped into the city across the bay and stepped out again with a splendid financial return for his efforts, but Sam got none of that kind of money. The dark lad was in his prime in those days. His memory serves right, Langford boxes in San Francisco just once, "way back in 1908, and he crashed his deadly right against Fulton's head, but he never got a line on the first round that the fight ended there and the fans never did get a line on the Boston boy's ability.

Shortly after the Jeffries-Johnson fight at Reno Langford was engaged to box Al Kaufman at the Elgin street arena which had been especially constructed for the purpose. This contest but the Governor stepped in and put the fight under the control of the State Athletic Commission. The fight was scheduled for those days after what happened

NEW MOONEY TRIAL ASKED BY W. C. T. U.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11. — The convention of the executive board of the W. C. T. U. concluded the last day of the meeting here with an appeal to Governor William D. Stephens for a new trial to Thomas J. Mooney, believing he was unjustly convicted of the Preparedness parade bomb explosion.

The telegram to Governor Stephens follows:

"Believing that Thomas J. Mooney has not had a fair trial and that it is the inherent right of every citizen of the United States to be accorded a fair and impartial trial when charged with crime, and that the denial of this right to any citizen, whether or not he may be, will inevitably lead, on the part of the people, to a distrust of the integrity of the courts, we, the executive board of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of California, appeal to you to grant the above named Thomas J. Mooney a new trial."

The outstanding feature of today's session was the address of Mrs. Anna A. Saylor, of Berkeley, the first woman in California to address the assembly. She pledged herself to fight for the establishment of a hospital as well as a law providing that criminals who are mentally deficient be given intermediate sentences and treated at a psychiatric clinic to be established at San Quentin, and released when cured. The meeting yesterday was devoted to the consideration of a platform of social legislation to include the psychopathic treatment of all criminals. August Vollmer, Berkeley chief of police, addressed the assembly and cited statistics showing that 25 per cent of all criminals are defective mentally and 12 per cent are definitely insane. Vollmer supported opposition to the institution principle in penal systems, and asked for the support of the W. C. T. U. in securing legislation authorizing the establishment of a psychiatric clinic at San Quentin. It is understood that the organization will support this plan and take steps to secure legislation providing for this clinic. The organization also favors legislation to provide for the commitment to detention establishments of all criminals for a period of observation and the establishment of a psychiatric hospital in Northern California. Miss Anna Saylor, newly elected assemblywoman from Berkeley and a member of the W. C. T. U. indicated her support of the afternoon session was devoted mainly to the consideration of the establishment of a psychiatric clinic in San Francisco. The organization contemplates for the coming year great activity in the campaign against narcotics, which includes propaganda against the use of tobacco. It will direct its efforts against the traffic in tobacco very much as it has conducted the campaign against the liquor traffic.

Miss Anna P. Durr, president of the State W. C. T. U., presided.

Catarrh of the Stomach Is Dangerous

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," Says Physician. Frequently Mistaken for Indigestion—How to Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furred, coated tongue, bad breath, sour burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter eructations, gas, wind and stomach acidity and call it indigestion when in reality they are suffering from catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician.

Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface. This condition prevents the food from mixing with the digestive fluids and the food is not properly digested. This condition soon leads to indigestion, flatulence, unassimilated food. The blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a glass of pure Bismarck Magnesia in half a glass of hot water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. Bismarck Magnesia is a natural mineral water from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach while the Bismarck Magnesia is an excellent solvent of the mucus and increases the efficiency of the hot water treatment. Moreover the Bismarck Magnesia will serve itself as a powerful but harmless antacid which will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be present. Bismarck Magnesia is not a laxative, is harmless, pleasant and easy to take and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bismarck Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, such as citrate, etc., but get the pure Bismarck form (powder or tablets), especially prepared for this purpose.—Advertisement.

Dancer Rock and Wife Separate? Both Have Varied Stage, Marital Life

Frances White, well known to Oakland patrons of vaudeville, and her even better known husband, William Rock, noted dancer, have separated, according to word that reached local theatrical haunts today from Chicago.

Rock formerly was a dancing partner of Maude Fulton, now proprietor of the Fulton theater in this city, and after Miss Fulton decided to quit dancing and become a playwright and actress, he made a business partnership with Frances White, whose real name at that time was Mrs. Frank Fay.

When Rock and Miss White became dancing partners Rock also was married, and the opinion was held that White was the cause of the separation between the Rocks. Anyhow, Rock was accused by Fay of having alienated the affections of Mrs. Fay and suit for $25,000 was filed against the dancer.

Miss White immediately fled suit against her erstwhile husband for $10,000, alleging defamation of character or something of a similar nature.

MARRIES AT AGE OF 15.
Ever since Frances White, when she was known as the "Splash Me" girl at various California beach resorts, ran away from her father, Alonzo Garwood, at the age of 15 years, she has been before the public in her matrimonial mix-ups.

She first married Garwood at Santa Ana in 1911, but after 15 years of the marriage was annulled by the California courts, which held the couple too young to marry. Several weeks later they again eloped and this time lived together for some time. Frequent quarrels, however, and the young bride's desire for the stage caused Garwood to seek another annulment of the marriage. This was granted.

Miss White entered Perla Hartman's company at the Grand theater in Los Angeles as a subretie. She traveled to San Francisco with this company and in a short time was appearing in Barbary Coast cafes as a singer and dancer. She gained attention as a singer of "coon songs."

They then sued Rock for $25,000, claiming alienation of his wife's affections. In turn Frances White sued Fay for $10,000.

Shortly after this Frances White attended a theater in New York where Fay was playing and was requested to leave the house after she had made faces at Fay during the first act.

MEETS DANGER ROCK.
While on the Eastern circuit she met Rock, a stage dancer. They were soon often in each other's company and there were frequent quarrels with Fay.

In 1916 detectives hired by Rock traced Fay to a Philadelphia hotel, where evidence was gained that later resulted in a divorce.

Fay then sued Rock for $25,000, claiming alienation of his wife's affections. In turn Frances White sued Fay for $10,000.

Shortly after this Frances White attended a theater in New York where Fay was playing and was requested to leave the house after she had made faces at Fay during the first act.

SLIGHT INCREASE IN 'FLU' FIGURES

Thirty-three new cases of influenza for the twenty-four hours ending at noon today were reported to the health department, showing a slight increase over yesterday's figures. The health department figures show small increases daily, beginning December 2, but so far, it is held, these mean nothing more than a flu which can be readily controlled. Eighteen cases reported as influenza were released today. There was one death from the disease.

There are now 159 cases on hand in the city, according to the health department figures. Health Officer Daniel Crosby says that there is no cause for alarm, as the figure has not assumed epidemic proportions. He says that wearing of masks by all who have colds or are recovering from the disease will keep down the figure.

MOSE TAKES DIME ACTS AS BAD PENNY

Mose Auerback, one of the regular patrons of the police court, today took a bad penny in the hands of Judge George Samuels.

Auerback gave such "assurance" of being well that Talbot introduced the dime.

This morning Auerback was in court on the regular charge of drunkenness. But no one in the courtroom believed that Talbot's dime did the trick. "His capacity is greater than that," mused Prosecuting Attorney Honnigsey.

"Mose," said Judge Samuels, "what sentence should I give you?"

"Anything your honor deems best," replied Auerback.

"If I did what was best for you and the community," said Judge Samuels, "I'd give you a life sentence. However, we'll take up the matter of your sentence tomorrow morning. I would suggest that you better pray all night, so that the court will be in a good frame of mind when you appear."

"Thank you," said Auerback, as he was led away.

OFFICER PLEADS ASSAULT GUILT

Gaetano Di Gaeto, a special deputy sheriff, pleaded guilty to assault with a deadly weapon before Judge James J. Jerome this morning, and was referred to the probation officer for a report.

By stipulation between the district attorney's office and the defense, the charge was reduced from assault with intent to commit murder.

Gaeto on the street the night of March 25 met Vid Albenses. An argument followed and Gaeto attempted an arrest, struck Albenses and when the latter broke away and ran, fired two shots, one taking effect in Albenses' knee.

Gaeto did not display an officer's badge. It is claimed Albenses took him for a hold-up man. Gaeto was held on $2000 bail and is now in the custody of the sheriff, who appointed him as a deputy.

$60,000 MAIL ROBBER HELD HERE, BELIEF RAID PROGRAM OF POLICE IS BACKED BY U.S.

Charged with being a notorious mail thief and specifically charged with the theft of two pouches of registered mail from Denver on December 2, Alfred Young, alias Albert Howell, alias Joseph D. E. Reed, was arrested at the St. Mark Hotel last night by Postoffice Inspector George B. Lewis of Sacramento and William McHenry of the San Francisco office.

When arrested Young had $1000 in currency on his person, which is said to have been part of the looted pouches, which are said to have contained a fortune in Liberty bonds, letters containing money and valuable jewelry packages.

According to reports from Denver the mystery surrounding the disappearance of registered mail pouches valued at $60,000, taken from a mail wagon there December 2, is believed to have been cleared up by the arrest of Young. He is a dismissed mail driver of Denver and was sought by postal and police authorities throughout the country in connection with the theft.

Postoffice Inspector Ralph Smith left Denver today for Oakland to aid in identifying Young as the man who cashed some of the missing papers. Liberty bonds, some money, checks and considerable jewelry were the stolen pouches. The thief, who is believed to have had a key to the mail wagon, rifled it while the wagon was en route to the railroad station at night.

Five women and one man are in the city prison today as the result of last night's activities of the neutrality bureau. These were arrested in a raid on a Seventh street lodging house, in which neutrality bureau and Follow-up men Agnes Mortimer co-operated. The prisoners are Frances Sinclair, Jessie Trazier, Agnes Miller, Teresa Doeblid and Louise Snuff. John Kolch was arrested as proprietor of the place. All are hooked for the department of justice, to be prosecuted under the federal statutes covering vice cases.

Charlie Chaplin's Marriage Proves Talk of Moving Picture World

One little wedding sometimes silences an awful rumour. Take the case of Mildred Harris and Charlie Chaplin. These two stars were married in Los Angeles the other day and this marriage is still the talk of that city.

The principal topic of conversation among moving picture actors, and in fact, throughout the moving picture world, the engagement of Chaplin and Miss Harris has been frequently reported but as often denied. Few people in the moving picture world even thought that Miss Harris would be the bride of the world's greatest comedian.

Miss Harris, an Oakland girl and leading woman for Chaplin for the past seven years in all of his pictures, was figured upon as being the lucky one, in fact it was even reported a year ago that Chaplin and Miss Purviance had married.

A friend of the family in Cheyenne, where Miss Mildred Harris was born, contributed a very interesting item to the known facts about Mrs. Charlie Chaplin.

Mildred Harris was born at 820 East

Seventeenth street, Cheyenne, her father being at that time the superintendent of the Western Division of the Union Pacific. She was third in a family of six or seven children and was from the very outset devoted to make-believe.

Childhood beauty and her vivacity, was in playlets that were staged in an old barn on an improvised stage. Her playmates and the neighbors called her "Hop Skip" because of her delightfully buoyant spirit. She was still a very small child when the family moved to Council Bluffs and was but fifteen years of age when she journeyed to Los Angeles to seek an engagement in moving pictures. Lola Weber was attracted by the girl's beauty and schooled her in the art of expression until today when Mildred Harris is but seventeen years of age, she is a star in her own right and her latest picture "Borrowed Clothes," which comes to the Oakland T. and N. theater this Wednesday for a four-day engagement, is said to reveal her as one of the most beautiful women in photoplays.—Advertisement.

RAILROAD RATE FIXING.

In his message to Congress, just before leaving for Europe, President Wilson pointed out the urgency of answering the question of what is to be the future policy regarding control of the railroads. He confessed he did not have a definite opinion as to what was the infallibly wise course, and asked Congress to decide for itself. This indication of a willingness to abandon, with the cessation of hostilities and the lapsing of the necessity to continue prosecution of the war, the practice of ordering and directing the proceedings of the Congress has been hailed with general satisfaction throughout the country.

It will cause real pleasure to be able to observe that Congress has decided to recover and exercise its legitimate function of initiative. The members will likely have to feel their way for a while, but as the days wear on they will act with increasing sureness. The country may ultimately hear that the legislative body has originated a governmental policy.

One sign of hope is the independent effort of a Southern senator, Mr. Smith of Georgia, to restrict the large powers of the railroad administration over the railroads. This is in the introduction of a bill to repeal the power given the President to initiate rates.

The portion of the law under which the railroad administration is proceeding and which Senator Smith wishes to repeal is the first section and provides that while federal control continues the President may initiate "rates, fares, charges, classifications, regulations and practices," by filing them with the Interstate Commerce Commission. The law provides that the commission may not suspend these rates pending final determination.

At present, despite the power given to the President, it is provided in the law that the Interstate Commerce Commission, upon complaint, may hold hearings and go into the reason and justice of rates inaugurated by the railroad administration to which the President has delegated the power given him. The commission is bound by law to give the fullest consideration to certification from the railroad administration that the rates inaugurated are necessary to raise money with which to pay railroad rentals or compensation or taxes.

By the Smith bill, which was referred to the interstate commerce committee, all of these provisions would be repealed and the old system of initiating rates and fares and the like would be resorted to again. Under the system in effect just before the taking over of the railroads the roads applied for new schedules of rates and fares, and the power lay with the commission itself to refuse or grant such applications.

It will be recalled that when the bill placing the railroads under government control was pending about a year ago, a determined effort was made by members of both political parties in Congress to have the power of fixing rates remain with the Interstate Commerce Commission—where an earlier statute had placed it. These efforts were abandoned, however, when the President and Mr. McAdoo stoutly represented that it was necessary to give to the railroad administration the arbitrary power of initiating rates. The Interstate Commerce Commission was thus left with the shadowy privilege of reviewing rates initiated by the Director-General of Railroads, without the power to enforce any modification.

This wish to return to the normal machinery of government in one instance may be followed by many others. But however that may be, the Interstate Commerce Commission, the bureau created by legislative authority and with the power and facilities for investigating operating conditions in order to find a legitimate basis for rates, may be restored to its peace function without prejudicing the larger question of future policy toward railroad control.

The question of how large a city must be before its affairs cease to be "personal" may be submitted later; but now it is pertinent to enquire why Chicago is so touchy. Turning back the pages of history only a few months, we find that Chicago newspapers displayed a vindictive interest in California politics, in Los Angeles climate and even went so far as to oppose the development of a municipal water supply project in the Hetch Hetchy valley.

CHILE AND PERU.

Despite the alarming news of apparently hostile preparations and demonstration in Chile and Peru there is a confident hope throughout the United States that by some means or another war between these two countries will be prevented. This feeling is no doubt largely due to a sort of blind feeling that the United States and the European Allies, having just succeeded in stopping one holocaust of war, will not permit another one, even on a small scale, to flame forth. We are disposed to think, without investigating the merits of the situation, that the neighboring powers of the discontented nations should stop the threatened fight in some way or another.

This is a view which at once commends itself to those who readily adopt makeshift and temporary devices to bridge over any trouble, real or genuine. But it cannot hold the promise of success in smoothing out the Chile-Peru quarrel. There are real differences between the two governments and peoples, and if permanent peace is to be guaranteed the substantial cause for these differences must be removed.

At the conclusion of the war between Chile on the one side and Bolivia and Peru on the other, which lasted from 1879 to 1883, out of which Chile emerged victorious, a peace treaty was dictated by Chile and signed on October 20, 1883, by which Bolivia ceded to the victor the province of Antofagasta and Peru surrendered Tarapaca. In addition, the provinces of Tacna and Arica were ceded to Chile with the proviso that at the end of ten years a plebiscite should be held to determine whether the inhabitants desired to return to the mother country, Peru, or remain under Chilean rule.

That plebiscite has never been held. Chile has repeatedly demurred to giving her consent to the popular election, and in 1900 the Congress at Valparaiso strongly intimated its intention to disregard the agreement for a plebiscite. It is to be presumed from the record that Chile regards the treaty of peace of 1883 as a scrap of paper.

Here is the thorn in the side of Peru. Shall it be withdrawn or merely painted over with some concoction of expediency? Tacna and Arica are to Peru much the same distressing problem as Alsace and Lorraine were to France; they are the cause of dissension and distrust, a bar to amicable relations with Neighbor Chile. The proceeding with reference to the plebiscite is similar to that followed by Germany with reference to Schleswig-Holstein. Presumably the motive for non-compliance is the same—reliance in the power of might to ignore the agreement if that pleased the Chilean government.

Whatever steps of intervention the United States or other nations take with reference to this imbroglio, it will serve no good purpose to ignore the essential justice of the respective contentions of Peru and Chile or refuse consideration of the cause of the trouble. If possible the cause ought to be removed. It should be remembered that one of the great issues of the war in Europe was to uphold the integrity of international agreements. That is to be the future policy of state for all nations, whether they like it or not. All must prepare to abide by the vindicated law.

THE ENGLISH ELECTIONS.

Interest in this country in the British elections, the campaign for which is now "raging," is solely based on the very important relation of the British government to the international settlements which must be made within the coming year. The outstanding question in the minds of Americans is whether Premier Lloyd George, the leader of the British government, and his coalition government will be retained in power.

The British premier's great ability, power of leadership and democratic outlook, his frank disregard for pre-war traditions and precedent, have won him a large sympathetic following in all the Allied countries, including the United States. If there should be disappointment in foreign countries over the defeat of Mr. Lloyd George it would be due solely to seeing a tried and proven leader displaced by one who might be unknown outside England.

At the present moment the advantages appear to lie with Mr. Lloyd George and coalition. Out of the 707 members to be elected, 104 have already been returned as unopposed, 63 are coalition members. One of the prominent leaders of the opposition is Mr. Austin Harrison, who hails from Lloyd George's own district. He is standing on the plank of a league of nations and the abolition of conscription in peace time. Many other opposition candidates have struck this note, but their noise has been perceptibly weakened by the recent announcement of Mr. Lloyd George, Mr. Winston Churchill and other coalition candidates that the present government also stands for a league of nations and non-conscription.

The President will reach Brest, France, next Friday or Saturday, and about ten days later Congress may expect at least a picture post card.

NOTES and COMMENT

The German idea at the outset of the war seemed to be that the Americans were hoobs and that anything could be put over on them. The testimony adduced before the United States Senate in the brewers' investigation caught it so touchy that idea. Official talk was kept on about every move that was made.

It has been shown that Germany spent $7,500,000 in propaganda to keep this government from getting into the war and generally in getting it into an attitude favorable to Germany. This policy seems to have been followed out the idea that was reported to be prevalent among the Huns, that all we were after was the money. The awakening must have been sad.

The former kaiser spends his time in writing "replies to the world" according to a report. The world is not asking questions, particularly. Such communications as it may see fit to address the disavowed author of so much misery will not require a reply.

Britain refuses to reduce her navy. A navy is England's strong suit and realizing what would have happened in the last four years without a dominating sea force she doubtless has resolved not to take chances. The allies which were jointly safeguarded cannot formulate a telling argument against it.

That it is early yet to indulge in talk that is not straight-edged is illustrated by the New York cigar potentate who indulged in the hope that the President would drown. Peace will have to be normally declared before the American citizen can indulge in his constitutional right of saying anything about anybody.

Breweries are looking toward China as the land where they may safely erect their works. When the move of big concerns was made from Washington to California it was supposed that California would always be a haven, but already it is seen that this is not to be and that no other section of the country is in the position. China is fresh territory, however.

Showing how Germans had horned in on American industries, with greater allegiance to that country than this, is the disclosure that the values taken over by the alien property custodian amounts to $800,000,000. The Huns were honeycombing us very extensively.

One of the missing Alameda boys found dead in a boat that had sailed about the bay for eleven days and had even been searched by searchers. A story that is stranger than many of the incidents of fiction which we dismiss as impossible.

There was a French university at Ghent, which the Germans, assuming that they had come to stay, had transformed to a German institution. The French, in their turn, came with the university, retransformed it, firing the Huns, and incidentally setting the university on its natural course again. It was a matter of much satisfaction, without doubt, in the educational world.

The editor of the Woodland Democrat, who is also the appraiser of customs at San Francisco, is differentiated through having been awarded a prize for a war editorial by a jury of New York editors. There were 636 entries, twelve of which were blue-ribboned. The editor generously made it an honor to California journalism.

The testimony in a suit that is now proceeding in the San Francisco Superior Court is that after a woman who had taken up with a man and had been beaten by him three times her love for him began to cool. Such experiences have a natural tendency to cool the affections, a fact that has been noted by other close observers.

The Sykes person is now on trial. The testimony is the usual, at times strange delusions and blind following, generally involving the turning over of the victim's money or property to the leader and the observance of strange ghastly rites. It is a discouraging exhibit of human credulity.

The Republican contained a good editorial the other day on making up for lost time in the schools. It suggests that if it is so vital to make up for lost time "institute week" be cut out. A good suggestion, for teachers probably learn less in the institute than they learn in school.—Fresno Mirror.

It should comfort any man or woman interested to know that even Commissioner Ralph Merritt couldn't get a crowd to attend a lecture on food in Sacramento. You can't get the people excited about food unless it is cooked and ready to pass around or unless they haven't got any.—Stockton Record.

CUBA LIKES OUR TOYS.

United States Consul Charles Winans writes from Cienfuegos: "Before the war European exporters supplied most of the toys used in the Cuban market. Since August, 1914, a gradual change has been wrought, and at the present time the United States supplies much the largest share of the toys imported into Cuba. This is, for the American toy manufacturer, a very satisfactory state of affairs, the more so as these toys, according to general comment and criticism, are regarded very favorably, especially those that may be characterized as educational."

MANAGER OF THE UNIVERSE.

The administration, not content with the control of the wires, now wants to control the wireless. If there is anything the administration doesn't want to control, from the elections to the polishing of shoes, it is because its attention has not been called to it.—Philadelphia Press.

WESTERN WAY WITH BILLBOARDS

They still do things effectively in the Golden West, where in other days they copied the custom of shooting first and talking afterwards.
In Los Angeles, where civic pride is more operative than in any other city, it was decreed that billboards should be removed from the public gaze. To decide was to act. Men equipped with instruments of demolition sallied forth on June 1 and began a work which since then has resulted in the removal of 840 garish billboards and has immortalized them on a high altar of outraged taste. The job still is going on and the hope openly is expressed and nursed that before the good work is over fully six miles of signs, objected to by the public, will have been eliminated.
Six miles of signs eliminated; think of it. Two full lengths of tooth paste, pink pills, milady's lingerie, chewing gum, garters, etc., etc., etc., snatched from the weary gaze of an aroused people and interned, sans appeal, sans hope. What a place Los Angeles must be!—Cincinnati Times-Star.

ARMENIAN MASSACRES

Talaat Pasha, the head of the Turkish government, did not merely allow the destruction of the Armenians, but boasted that he sanctioned the extermination and that he had ordered it. Ambassador Morgenthau, who repeatedly protested against the inhuman proceedings in Armenia, says in the World's Work for December:
"The definite conviction which these conversations with Talaat left upon my mind was that Talaat was the most implacable enemy of this persecuted race. He told me that the United and Progress Committee, which was formed up in the matter in all its details and that the matter which was being pursued was that which they had officially adopted. He said that I must not get the idea that the deportations had been decided upon hastily; in reality they were the result of prolonged and careful deliberation. To my repeated appeals that he should show mercy to these people, he sometimes responded seriously, sometimes angrily, and sometimes flippantly.
"We have been reproached," he said, according to this interviewer, "for making no distinction between the innocent Armenians and the guilty, but that was utterly impossible. In view of the fact that those who were innocent today might be guilty tomorrow."
"It is no use for you to argue," Talaat answered, "we have already disposed of three-quarters of the Armenians; there are none at all left in Bittis, Van and Erzurum. The hatred between the Turks and the Armenians is now so intense that we have got to finish with them. If we don't, they will plan their revenge."
"We base our objections to the Armenians on three distinct grounds. In the first place, they have enriched themselves at expense of the Turks. In the second place, they are determined to dominate over us and to establish a separate state. In the third place, they have openly encouraged our enemies. They have assisted the Russians in the Caucasus and our failure there is largely explained by their actions. We have, therefore, come to the irrevocable decision that we shall make them powerless before this war is ended."
"One day Talaat made what was perhaps the most astonishing request I had ever heard. The New York Life Insurance Company and the Equitable Life of New York have for years done considerable business among the Armenians. The extent to which they insured their lives was merely another indication of their thrift habits.

"I wish," Talaat now said, "that you would get the American life insurance companies to send us a complete list of their Armenian policy holders. They are practically all dead now and have left no heirs to collect the money. It is of course, an outrage to the state. The government is the beneficiary now. Will you do so?"
"You will get no such lists from me," I said, and got up and left him. Talaat's attitude toward the Armenians was summed up in the proud boast which he made to his friends: 'I have accomplished more toward solving the Armenian problem in three months than Abdul Hamid accomplished in thirty years.'"

THE JESTER

Couldn't Understand It.
The landlady of a certain boarding house always made it a point to ask each departing guest to write something in her visitors' book. She was very proud of it and of some of the people whose names were in the volume and the nice things they said.
"But there's one thing I can't understand," the lady confided to a friend, "and that is what an American gentleman wrote in the book after stopping here. People always smile when they read it."
"What was it?" asked the friend.
"He only wrote the words, 'Quoth the raven,'—Tid-Bits, London.

"Mamma," said Archie, coming in from outdoors one frosty morning, "there's something the matter with me. Please send for the doctor; I'm breathing fog."—Exchange.

"We got no papa and no mamma any more."
"Are they both dead?"
"No, ma'am, but they are both golf bugs now."—Detroit Free Press.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Why Epidemic of Influenza Was So Frequently Fatal.

BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University.)

From the fountain of influenza, whose gusher days have passed, some noteworthy lessons were learned and incontestable facts that are new are now worth recording and storing away for another such "rainy day."

The natural, normal, healthy resistance of the strongest, most fearless individuals, soldiers, outdoor workers and vigorous, self-confident men was broken down swiftly by the germs of this pandemic influenza.

The disease appears always to be caught and conveyed by contact with others who had it, which is entirely the same with measles and smallpox. The contagion is not air-borne. Wind, rain, vapors, smoke and night air or sewer gas, though blamed, have nothing to do with Spanish influenza. The disease is spread by contact and only by contact.

The epidemic had several strange characteristics not before noted by doctors or bacteriologists.

The disease is not the result alone of an invasion by the influenza germ, but instead a double assault, by both the influenza bacillus and the pneumococcus or the influenza bug and the germ streptococcus hemolyticus.

As an army surgeon, Major C. L. Mix, pointed out, it seems almost as if the influenza bacillus—discovered first in 1892 by Kitasato, a Japanese, and later claimed by a German named Pfeiffer—and the pneumococcus lived together like father and child in a state of "symbiosis."

Unlike ordinary pneumonia, this pneumonia has no pleurisy, no pain in the chest, no empyema or pus in the walls next the lungs.

No bleeding before the disease is fully developed, as is common with the first stages of fever. This appears to be due to some interference with the passage of blood through the lungs and the damming back of the blood in the veins of the neck and face.

This same thing accounts for the blue-black "cyanosis" of the many pneumonia victims of the checked and held back in the parts of the flesh, which cannot expel it, as the well lungs are able to do, to fresh air and oxygen.

Red spots are frequently observed upon the back of influenza patients with pneumonia.

Almost anything which diminishes the alkali naturally present in healthy human blood, augments the danger of germ diseases. It lowers the health of man's fabric and allows bacteria to get an infective foothold.

Vaccines made of killed influenza bacilli are now recognized as successful. The very fact that epidemics occur a generation or so apart and attacks leave the individual immune for months or years show that anti-influenza vaccines should be as triumphant as the anti-typhoid, anti-smallpox and anti-rabies vaccines.

Another discovery made regarding this plague is that every ounce of the vaccine the patient goes against him. The victim must be kept warm, and those who follow the practice, as in pneumonia, of putting the sufferer out-of-doors, add to his exposure, losing strength and diminished resistance. The patient must have air and oxygen, but not cold and wet. He must be kept in bed to conserve his strength, and hands must be applied to his legs, feet, abdomen and chest.

Salicylate of soda in 10-grain capsules with pepsin or soda every four hours have proved to be effective in many cases. Ammonium salicylate, as good as the sodium salicylate.

DENSMORE'S AIDS SAID TO BE IN CANADA

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—John B. Densmore, federal director of employment and author of the dictagraph charges against Dietrich, Attorney C. M. Fickert, has no intention of returning to San Francisco, according to Attorney J. A. Mearns of Portland, Ore. Mearns is here on business. He said he had long been Densmore's friend and that they had discussed the charges against Fickert when Densmore was in Portland recently.

Two other persons, also wanted as grand jury witnesses, are out of reach of subpoenas, according to Fickert. These are Densmore's operatives who assisted in taking the dictagraph records. They are reported to be in Canada, where they are planning for a long stay.

"Densmore," said Mearns, "told me that he would not return to San Francisco and that there was no power to make him. I asked him why not and he said that he had no desire to run up against the legal machinery of San Francisco, which, he said, was manipulated by a bunch of professional convicts."

NEW RUSH IN SHIPBUILDING HERE LIKELY

General satisfaction is expressed in local shipbuilding circles at the action yesterday of the United States Shipping Board in removing the restrictions from shipbuilding contracts from private firms and individuals. Eastbay shipping men are equally pleased with the rapidly developing plan for allotting to the Pacific Coast of a large fleet of steel passenger and freight steamers at present under the control of the shipping board.

The lifting of the embargo on shipbuilding by the American marine came yesterday afternoon in the shape of a telegram from Charles F. Smith, president of the United States Shipping Board, to the managements of Eastbay shipbuilding plants. The latter gather from the despatch that the Shipping Board has relinquished its exclusive control of the work at the yards here, and that an era of competitive bidding for ship construction will soon be in force.

By the terms of the telegram of yesterday, the shipbuilding yards are permitted unrestricted contracting for the construction of wooden or composite ships for private account, both foreign and domestic, with the right of transferring these to the government with equal freedom the construction of steel vessels, but with the proviso that they must be built for American flag.

READY TO EXPAND.
The shipyards here are prepared to take advantage of the change. Additional ways and other facilities necessary for an enlarged shipbuilding program will be established at the Moore, Bethlehem, Union Construction and Haulon yards.

The Moore plant there are three shipways available for work under private contract, in addition to the seven which are now being utilized for government work. Each of the three will grade a vessel of 20,000 tons displacement.

The withdrawal of building restrictions, according to the Moore people, will have no unfavorable bearing on unfilled ship construction contracts for the government. The latter will keep the plant working at capacity, as at present operated, until the latter part of 1920.

At the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation the government contracts for steel freighters of 12,000 tons burden will carry well over into 1920. The Bethlehem people will increase the capacity of the plant to meet the new conditions, and it is intimated, may take over a portion of the recently discarded Liberty shipyard as a means to that end.

OTHERS MAY ENLARGE.
The plans for the future at the Haulon and Union Construction companies' yards are not as yet so well defined. The management of the last mentioned, however, is prepared to take full advantage of competitive bidding. New ways will be added if need be, to the already ready constructed, and it is possible that the $40,000 machine shop may be enlarged.

The plan to secure new steel freight and passenger steamers, and possibly released German tonnage, for use in the trans-Pacific trade, was advanced by John H. Rosseter, chief of the bureau of operations of the United States Shipping Board. Rosseter suggests that Pacific coast shipping interests file a petition for such vessels with the shipping board.

GIRL IS MISSING, ALSO HIS MONEY

A lonely bachelor was A. T. Leixa. For home he had an obscure hotel of Market street in San Francisco. Instead of the family meal that a man should sit down to at night with the wife pottering around, pouring his coffee and handing him dishes, he had only a seat at a restaurant table. Instead of the chair by the fire with the wife pottering around, pouring his coffee and handing him dishes, he had only a seat at a restaurant table.

Then one day in June, 1917, he read this in the personals of a San Francisco morning paper:

Attractive young woman with large financial interests desires to obtain small loan for short period to protect her investments; matrimony, if suited.

A box number was given. Leixa, with visions of wife, fireside and the comforts of home, answered. What happened is set forth in a civil suit filed before Justice of the Peace Aaron Turner in Fruitvale. Leixa says in answer to the advertisement, on promise to marry him, he would give her $500, 3022 Pleinier avenue, Fruitvale, at 10 in the morning or between 6 and 7 at night.

"Al. Nixon," the correspondent with the office hours, proved to be a young woman and Leixa admits she was attracted. She attracted $150 from him, according to his petition, on promise to refund it at interest in four months. The note she gave him was not signed "Nixon," however, but "Louise Pillsbury."

Between July and September, continued Leixa, he learned that "M. Nixon" and "Louise Pillsbury" also was Phyllis L. Louis, Phyllis L. Pillsbury and L. Louis. "But," he says, "everybody knows how it is with the infatuated. And Leixa was still dreaming of exchanging his hall bedroom for a regular home and a wife. Then the note fell due, and M. Nixon-Louise Pillsbury-Phyllis L. Louis could pay, says Leixa. Phyllis had got $25. But the balance of $55 with interest is still unpaid, and it is for that amount the suit is brought.

Nixon-Louise Pillsbury-Phyllis L. Louis-Phyllis L. Pillsbury-L. Louis was not at 3022 Pleinier avenue today and where she had moved could not be learned. Leixa is back in his room, and one dream of home is in cold storage.

SHIPBUILDING PLANS URGED BY MERCHANTS

Steps are to be taken at once by the Merchants' Exchange of this city to urge upon the government the necessity of continuing its shipbuilding both locally and throughout the nation.

The vital need of ships to successfully carry the vast volume of commerce that will result from the cessation of hostilities is to be pointed out. A communication from the National Foreign Council of New York City, asking the Merchants' Exchange to make an appeal to the United States Shipping Board in the interest of continuation of the building of commerce-carrying vessels, reached at midnight of the exchange last evening, and the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

URGENT SHIPBUILDING
"Whereas, the destruction and loss of vessels during the war leaves the world total of ocean shipping upward of 10,000,000 gross tons less than it was four years ago, and the rehabilitation of war-ravaged territories, the reconstruction work of all the belligerent nations, and the restocking of the neutral markets of the world call for the service of more tonnage than is now in existence plus what can be produced for some time to come. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Merchants' Exchange of Oakland respectfully urges upon the President and the United States Shipping Board the wisdom of continuing the program of the Shipping Board for the construction of merchant ships, including cargo and passenger carriers of various types, without any abatement until it has been completed."

The National Foreign Council, which has representatives in all of the important cities of the United States, keeps in touch with exports and imports of the United States and works for an increase of commercial business. All commercial bodies in the country have been urged by the council to cooperate in the work furthering the shipping interests through their appeal for a continuance of the shipbuilding program.

OPPOSE HIGHER RATES
Acting on a communication from the State Railroad Commission, which is using its efforts to get the United States railroad director general to modify the plan for increasing freight rates, the Board of Trade adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas, the director-general of railroads has proposed a new schedule of rates which is materially higher than the present rates, but also ignores all water competition and other important factors hitherto considered in fixing rates, and

"Whereas, the State Railroad Commission is investigating said new schedule with a view to making recommendations concerning the same, therefore be it

Resolved, By the Merchants' Exchange of Oakland, that we are opposed to said new rates, and that a special traffic committee is authorized to send a communication to the Railroad Commission of California indicating our opposition to said new rates proposed by the director-general of railroads."

Kissing Is Cruelty, Says Court Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—Kissing isn't charity when a married woman practices it on a married man other than her husband.

Instead, it is cruelty to the husband. So ruled Judge Edmund Mogan when he refused the request of Mrs. Edith Fry to strike from the cross-complaint of her husband, George W. Fry, an automobile dealer, in her suit for divorce, the charge that she was cruel to him when she kissed Jack Sharp, a married man of Sacramento.

Judge Mogan declared a complete airing of the kissing incidents charged would be necessary.

NURSES' HOME TO ST. MARY'S MEN BE BUILT BY U. C. RESERVE COURSES

In addition to re-appointment of certain members of the faculty of the University of California by the regents of the university at a meeting in San Francisco yesterday, it was decided to erect a $100,000 home for the nurses of the university hospital in San Francisco. The new structure is to be placed opposite the hospital, connected with it by a tunnel under the street, according to the plans adopted.

Members of the faculty of the university were named as follows: Robert L. Ingersoll, lecturer in economics; Ian B. Stoughton, Holborn, as professor of art and poetry in the university extension division; Dr. C. S. Milberry, dean of the College of Dentistry, as head of the dental department of the University of California Hospital, and Dr. A. C. Tulio, her associate in the department of practical astronomy, as acting director of the students' observatory and chief academic officer in the department of astronomy; Frederic Ferdinand, as assistant in plant physiology; Mrs. Rose Williams, as assistant in Oriental languages; P. C. Kraus, as mechanician in the department of physics; Mrs. H. P. Bates, as assistant in economics and social economics; Manuel Zavala, as Du Bois professor of sociology; Dr. J. M. Marjorie E. Landers, as assistant in agricultural extension; Dr. Margaret Schulze, as assistant in obstetrics and gynecology in the department of medicine; Dr. Florence McCoy Hill, as research assistant in biochemistry; Charles T. Dozier, as instructor in navigation and nautical astronomy; Hamilton Smith, as instructor in astronomy; Mary Lee Heger, as teaching fellow in astronomy; Fred H. Mighall, as instructor in stone work in the Wilmersley School.

The government plan consists of the maintenance of two years' course in military training. A minimum of three hours a week as a prerequisite for graduation on the part of enrolling students. The government will detail an officer, who will serve as a military instructor, will supply the uniforms and other equipment, and, after two or more years' service, the R. O. T. C. pay the subsistence of the students.

EMPLOYERS ARE ASKED TO SELL STAMPS

Employees of all business houses in Oakland are asked to buy their War Savings Stamps during the remainder of the year directly from their employers.

The committee in charge of the campaign also is asking employers to take charge of the sale of stamps to their employees and see that every employee buys these "baby bonds" to the limit of his or her ability.

This "searching-out" process is made necessary, according to the committee, by the continuous failure of Oakland people to respond to the government's necessities.

"The government must have the money to pay its running expenses—which are high, of course, because of the war—and part of that expense is the war itself," says the committee. "Now the boys are going to be brought home and if the people do not buy an investment, the government will be forced to levy a direct tax."

Every employer is asked to see to it that each employee of the firm, association and member signs a card for December only agreeing to "buy again" this month, regardless of any former pledge cards thus helping to "bring a home."

Employers are asked to impress upon employees the value of War Savings Stamps as an investment, paying 4 percent interest, compounded quarterly, and not to accept the statement that the employee is to purchase stamps from any organization or other source this month, as they are expected to buy from the employer only. This is necessary for checking purposes.

In concluding its letter to business men, the committee says: "Our city is behind in its quota in War Savings Stamps. There is a stain on our war record. Let's clear the record. Let's do it now. Buy War Savings Stamps. Buy all you can."

Frowns on Use of "Limited" in Title

Commissioner of Corporations E. C. Bellows has announced that he looks with disfavor upon the use of the word "limited," or its abbreviation, "Ltd.," as the part of the corporate name of a California corporation, because of the probable misinterpretation of the effect of the use thereof.

It has been officially announced by the secretary of state that Constitutional Amendment No. 24, failed to be approved and ratified by the people at the recent general election.

On this account, the act adopted by the 1917 legislature became void and the liability of stockholders of a California corporation adopting and using as the last word of its corporate name, "limited," or its abbreviation, "Ltd.," is not limited as provided in the measure.

New Revelations of a Wife starts soon in The TRIBUNE.

MISS MARGARET MALMSTROM, who is doing her best to bring Oakland up to its quota of War Savings Stamps before the end of this month.

"War Isn't Over," Declares Miel European Scrap May Be Prologue Y.M.C.A. Told World Not Safe Yet

"The war isn't over and the boys aren't coming right home."

The hundred-odd men attending the Y. M. C. A. members' dinner in the Oakland Y. M. C. A. last night leaned forward startled. There was a general scrapping of chairs about the tables, as men endeavored to shift about and get a clear view of the speaker.

A short, stocky man in a Y. M. C. A. overseas uniform stood at the head of the room. He was in a half-crouching attitude, body thrust forward from the hips, arms held tense like a fighter's, head jerking out pugilistically from his shoulders.

C. L. Miel, "Y" man who accompanied the allied expeditionary forces to Vladivostok and Siberia, raised one of those fighting arms and smashed a fist so resoundingly on the table that the dishes rattled.

"UPHEAVAL NOT OVER." "You've been talking here about getting the men back quickly," he said. "Well, it isn't going to be done. You don't seem to realize in this country that the world upheaval is not over. It may just have been started. The great war may merely have been the prologue, the curtain-raiser, though God forbid."

"But, look here"—and he leaned forward earnestly—"you know what the Y. M. C. A. means to the army. It helps the soldier keep ready to face his family and friends when he returns. It helps him play a man's part. It keeps him from sinking into moral and spiritual degradation. It makes his idle hours pleasant and easy to bear. Yet that is just a glimpse at what the 'Y' means and at the high position it occupies in the estimation of the government. Washington looks on the 'Y' as indispensable to the army."

"And the government," he said, "has called on the Y. M. C. A. to raise at once 8000 more men for overseas service. Does that look as if the government expected to bring the boys back at once? Is Uncle Sam sending those men over to pose amid the ruins or to have a picnic on the battlefields? No, sir-ree, you bet he isn't. There is work for those men, because we are going to have a mighty big army over there for quite a while."

Europe, continued Miel, is a bedlam. With the break-up of Russia, Austria-Hungary and Germany, it is back in the medieval period when there were hosts of little principalities with contending interests continually engendering wars.

"The world isn't safe yet for democracy," added Miel. "To the handful of great powers, including our country, which came through the wreck, falls the task of straightening out the world. That may develop into almost anything."

CHANCE IN SIBERIA. Miel spoke of Siberia, declaring it a land of vast natural resources as yet unscratched. "There is the chance for American capital," he said. "But it will have to step lively or British capital will get there first. The British have a lot of war bills to pay and quite naturally they are going to put their money at work where it will bring the biggest returns in the shortest possible time."

Describing conditions in Vladivostok, he said that one of the biggest evils to combat was that of women. "There are hosts of refugee women here," he said. "The poor things have children to support in many cases. They don't know where to turn for aid. They are forced to sell themselves."

Camp Kearny May Be Made Permanent

CAMP KEARNY, SAN DIEGO, Dec. 11.—Some indication of the permanency of this camp as a training ground for American soldiers was given when an announcement was made that a site had been selected for a large two-story infirmary for treatment of certain diseases. The site is at the west end of the enclosure. The building will be 156 by 40 feet.

Two orders making travel for men on liberty days easier were issued today. For the first time since the quarantine against Spanish influenza went into force the men will be allowed to ride to San Diego by train. The windows of the cars will be nailed open to insure the free passage of air. The auto stages which run to camp will be permitted to go as far as the information building or the military police. Men leaving camp must take gauze masks along to comply with the quarantine rules of San Diego.

All photographs taken by the Hartsook Studio, 408 14th St., up to and including the 20th of December, will be finished before Xmas.—Adv.

PROMPT PAY FOR MEMBER SCHOOL BODY

Dr. J. Loran Pease, newly-appointed member of the Board of Education, replacing Mrs. Marguerite Ogden Steele, who died recently, today became a "full fledged" city official, when Auditor I. H. Clay received the legal notice of his appointment and formally placed him on the city payroll. City Clerk L. W. Cummings also formally certified his advent into officialdom.

This prompt action enables Dr. Pease to profit by the sad experience of George Randolph, a recent appointee to the board, replacing the late Dr. A. S. Kelly. The board, in appointing him, forgot to order his name sent to the auditor. When Randolph appeared for his monthly pay, $40, Clay was unable to put through his warrant, and considerable legal formalities had to be gone through before the new director's salary was transferred from the coffers of the city to his pocket.

"Look here," warned Randolph, after the appointment of Pease in committee meeting, "don't let the board forget to notify the auditor. There's no reason Dr. Pease should not profit by my adventures in getting my pay."

The Oakland Board of Education, through the appointment of Dr. Pease, is without a woman member for the first time since the new city charter has been in effect. It will be womanless until next week, when J. A. Hill, recently elected public administrator, will present his resignation, and a woman will be appointed to fill his place. The board has several women candidates in view, and it was officially planned to name one for the Steele vacancy, and Pease for the Hill vacancy. When the members, in committee yesterday, were unable to agree on a woman, it was decided that as all were agreed on Pease, he be named, and the woman member be chosen for the other vacancy. This gives several days to settle on a candidate, as it is desired, if possible, to make the board's choice unanimous.

SECOND JURY BEGINS MCGOWN MURDER TRIAL

The taking of testimony in the Malcolm McGown murder case was begun this morning, the jury having been completed at adjournment last night. The prosecution proceeded in the same manner as at the first trial, the first witnesses telling the story of the tragedy as it unfolded to the police. This afternoon the expert medical testimony will be put on to dispute the theory that McGown was insane when he shot Rasmus J. Groden in the Bacon building, January 23.

The first witness today was August Hoffman, watchman in the Bacon building, who heard the shots and found the body of Groden lying in the hall on the upper floor. He told of how the body was lying face downward, and of a bullet hole in the floor near to the top of the head, advancing the theory that McGown had fired at Groden as he fell or after the body had struck the floor.

BULLET HOLE FIGURES. The defense in the former trial made no reference to this bullet hole in the floor, apparently seeking to pass over it as lightly as possible. But in the present trial the bullet hole in the floor is offered as evidence that when McGown, after days of restraint, during which time the story of the debauching of his only daughter had been told to him over and over again, turned loose the fire of his wrath upon his former trusted friend, to whom he had promised his daughter in marriage if she would consent after she became of age, it was a terrific wrath—a wrath so furious that it unseated his reason altogether, and left him dominated entirely by the passion for vengeance upon the despoiler of his home.

AS PROOF OF DEATH. The testimony of E. L. Mitchener, who had offices in the building and who went out to investigate the shots, finding the body at about the same time as the watchman found it, was offered merely as proof of the death. The story of how McGown, after he had fired the fatal shots, walked into the police station and asked to

Claims Money Lost During Long Spree

Hugh McNair, who lives at the Cosmopolitan Hotel, told the police that he had $520 when he became intoxicated last week. Some friend, he says, took the money from his pocket and gave it to Andrew Le Buif of the Davy Crockett saloon for safe keeping.

When McNair recovered from his celebration and went to get the money, he says, he found only $340. Le Buif states that that was the entire amount turned over to him.
